DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 1, 6, 9, 11, 14, 17, 22, 24, 25 and 27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter, which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. Claims 1, 6, 9, 11, 14, 17, 22, 24, 25, and 27 appear directed to the embodiment of figure 1. The specification and figure 1 fail to teach the mechanism of bandgap radiation. There are several ways to generate photons using direct bandgap materials. Applicant fails to disclose in the specification whether the mechanism involves carrier recombination or electron-hole generation or other mechanisms. Further concentration and conductivity type of the light-emitting layer is not disclosed.

Claims 2-5, 7, 9, 12, 15-16, 18-21, 23 and 26 are also rejected as being dependent of the rejected independent base claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

Art Unit: 2811

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 8 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Beernink et al. US patent No. 5,717,707.

Regarding claims 8 and 10, Beernink teaches (fig. 5B) a multilayer light-emitting device, comprising a silicon layer with an oxide layer on it (native oxide layer between layer 58 and 66 col. 6, lines 1-5) and a GaInP layer (66) over the silicon layer with an oxide.

Beernink also teaches a diffused silicon layer (58) that is inherently a polysilicon layer.

Beernink does not explicitly teach an oxidized polysilicon layer.

The examiner broadly interprets the silicon layer (58) with oxide on top of it to be an oxidized polysilicon layer.

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 13, is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by Beernink et al.

Beernink teaches (fig. 5B) a multilayer light-emitting device, comprising an electron-emitting layer (58); and a GaInP layer (66) over the electron-emitting layer.

By applying appropriate voltage to the n+ diffused region (58) electrons can be ejected from it. Therefore the n+ diffused region (58) is inherently an electron-emitting layer.

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. References B-D are cited as being related to a light-emitting device.
